

BROOKLYN.

WANT PRESTON REMOVED.

Commercial Bank Depositors Will Appeal to Gov. Flower.

Motion Granted to Have Some Deposits Returned to Owners.

The Committee of Five representing the depositors of the suspended Commercial Bank of Brooklyn decided this morning to address an appeal to Gov. Flower. They will make strenuous efforts to have State Banking Superintendent Preston removed from office.

The depositors claim Mr. Preston had been aware of the insolvency of the bank for the past two years, and that the affairs of the institution should have been wound up then.

The Committee came to the Supreme Court this morning to meet the Attorney-General. He was expected to answer a motion made by Receiver Dykman to have all the collection business of the bank and deposits made after it was insolvent, returned to the rightful owners.

Justice Cullen granted the necessary permission.

The collection business on notes due amounting to $1,000,000 and not over $12,000,000. The deposits paid in after the doors of the bank had closed amounted to $1,000,000.

After the motion had been heard the special committee held an impromptu meeting and decided to call a special meeting of all the depositors for Wednesday evening.

They will then submit their plan for appearing before Gov. Flower, and asked to have it unanimously endorsed.

The Committee also decided to appear before the Governor Thursday. They will also ask the Attorney-General for permission to apply to the courts for an associate receiver to look after their interests.

Receiver Dykman said this morning that Director George Wilson had made arrangements to borrow $100,000, and that his note held by the bank for that amount would be taken up to-morrow or Wednesday.

Mr. Dykman said he expected that all the directors would either redeem or secure their paper before the end of the week.

When asked how many suits would be brought, Mr. Dykman said he thought there were more than ten.

A WIFE SEEKS ALIMONY.

The Latest Move in Mrs. Heinegger's Suit for Divorce.

Ernestine Heinegger today applied to Justice Osborne in City Court, Brooklyn, for an order requiring her husband to pay her alimony and counsel fees pending trial of her suit for limited divorce.

They were married March 27, 1892, and Mrs. Heinegger alleges that her husband threatened to kill her, and that on Aug. 8, he drove her out of her home, and that he has since then refused to support her and her children, and that as they had a joint bank account of several hundred dollars, she did not need alimony or counsel fees. Justice Osborne reserved decision.

Heinegger was unconsciously ejected from his father-in-law's home some time ago, and is said to have brought suit to recover $3,000 damages.

POLICE FIND A QUEER NOTE.

Peter Flanagan, a Prisoner, Refuses to Explain It.

Peter Flanagan, twenty-four years old, of 17 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, was locked up by the lower Police Court, Brooklyn, charged with being drunk and disorderly. When Flanagan was found the following, scrawled upon a scrap of paper, was taken from him.

"NEW YORK, Sept. 8, 1893. If I am dead, I am dead by Thomas Coplan, 100 East 12th St., New York, Brooklyn, N. Y. I expect at any time."

"JOHN DICKSON, 100 East 12th St., New York, Brooklyn, N. Y. I expect at any time."

Flanagan refused to make any explanation regarding it.

WANTED FOR BIGAMY.

Real Estate Dealer Goodwin Said to Have Two Wives.

Justice Walsh, in the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of Arthur J. Goodwin, of 283 Livingston street. He is charged by his wife, Maria Goodwin, with bigamy.

Goodwin, 38, of 212 East Eighth Street, New York, is said to have been divorced from his first wife, Sarah, in 1880, and had never been divorced from her.

Justice Walsh said that he had married Goodwin to Sarah I. Goodwin, in 1880, and supposed he was unmarried.

Goodwin is a real estate dealer. His twenty-eight year old son is said to have considerable money.

ITALIAN SHOOTER CAUGHT.

Casio Got Work on a Sound Steamer After Wounding Compello.

Giovanni Casio, an Italian, forty years old, was held in $2,000 bonds by Justice Walsh, in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning, on the charge of assault. Examination was set down for Thursday morning.

Casio, 245 Park St., Brooklyn, is charged with having shot and wounded a man named Compello, of 194 Bedford street, on his way home from Sunday school yesterday afternoon. Compello was taken to the corner of Washington and Gates streets, where he was lying on the ground.

Detective Deleahanty arrested Haggart and Driver, and the former was held for further examination.

ALIMONY NOT PAID.

Dudenhausen May Be Punished for Contempt of Court.

Justice Osborne, in City Court, Brooklyn, today said he would grant an order requiring Frank J. Dudenhausen, Jr., to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Some time ago the Court ordered Dudenhausen to pay his wife alimony in her suit for divorce. She says that he has failed to obey the order, and there is now due for her $500.

Thirty years Mrs. McLaughlin. Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin and her daughter left Brooklyn this morning to visit her mother at Newton, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin were married thirty years ago. Yesterday was the anniversary of a family gathering was held at their home, 163 Roman street.

From all forms of disordered stomachs see BROWN'S SELTZER. A palatable, prompt cure.

Time to Eat when you look for FURTER'S CORNED MEAT. G. G. FLETCHER CO., 14th St., New York.

FRENCHMEN VISIT TIFFANY'S.

The 52 Foreign Trades Masters Are Seeing the City.

A Reception by the French Societies To-Night.

N more representative delegation has crossed the Atlantic to visit America, New York and the World's Fair than that selected by the French Government from the various industrial trades of the great European Republic, and which is to-day being informally and unofficially entertained in New York.

The visitors are fifty-two in number, and they are masters in many trades. They came on the steamship La Gasconne yesterday, are quartered at the Broadway Central Hotel, and, under the guidance of their leader, M. Heller, an artist engraver, of Paris, who has been many times to this city, are doing the sights.

The party include Aldermen, municipal councilors, Mayors and other official dignitaries of French cities and towns, elected by their fellow-citizens as we do in America, but they are here as electricians, workers in porcelain, mechanicians, laborers, designers, distillers, shoemakers, weavers, blacksmiths, pastermen, workers, stumblers, vapers, ropers, ebony-workers and members of trades unions.

They hail from Paris, Rouen, Brest, St. Etienne, Constantin, Lyons, Toulon, Toul, Limoges, Epinal, St. Denis and other localities.

Most of them were nominated by the trades union of gold to which they belong, and elected by the French Government, while others were selected by the Government from places where there was no labor organization.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

They were met at the pier by representatives of the French Societies of New York, and a committee of the French Societies of this city.

Among the former were Samuel Gomberg, President of the French Societies of New York, and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor; James J. Daly, President of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; H. White, Joseph Baronesse, S. Kaufman, S. Harend, John Mee, Meyer Damp and others.

BEARS MADE A SHORT RAID.

But a Reaction Set In and Bulls Carried the Day.

Easy Money Brings Renewed Activity to the Street.

The receipt of lower quotations from London induced the bears to hammer the market at the opening, and prices yielded 1-2 and 1-8, the latter in Sugar, which touched 21-2.

There was further realizing right through the list by the smaller class of traders, but the stocks sold fell into strong hands, and pretty soon the market experienced an upward trend.

Sugar again proved to be the leader and advanced 1-8 to 21-4. General Electric 2 1-4 to 21-4, Chicago Gas 2 1-4 to 21-4, New Jersey Central 1-10 to 21-4, American Cotton Oil 1-10 to 21-4 and Chicago & Eastern Illinois 1-10 to 21-4.

The steamship La Gasconne brought gold valued at 3,222,000 francs, consigned to (colleges) Heidelberg, Augsburg, Bonn, 21,000 francs; Augsburg, 21,000 francs; Frankfurt, 21,000 francs; Hosiery, 21,000 francs; and Muller, 21,000 francs.

The stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

There was no more reaction, and the market was carried by the bulls. The money market was strong, and the stock market was in the main strong, with further advances in a number of instances.

The bears laid a good deal of stress on the unfavorable movement in copper, but it did not avail them much and they were forced to cover up their positions.

The particularly strong stocks were Missouri Pacific, Lackawanna, National Biscuit, and others.

JACOBS BROS.

COAT AND VEST TO ORDER $12.00.

These goods come from all the standard mills, and are strictly all wool. Samples and self-made measures free of charge.

Ready-made suits in all the latest styles. 229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

229 Broadway (Opp. Post-Office).

SCHOOLS OPENED TO-DAY.

An Army of Little Ones Nearly 165,000 Strong, Attend.

The Seating Capacity is Far Short of the Actual Need.

A grand army of little folks, nearly 165,000 strong, turned out this morning and took possession of the school houses and made 430 teachers prisoners of war.

No resistance was offered.

The war warriors were only armed with pencils, wet sponges and bottled soap-suds, but the custodians of the public property yielded, and the tutors and pedagogues surrendered unconditionally.

As early as 7 o'clock this morning the youngsters were on hand ready to climb the tree of knowledge.

In the Tenth, Twelfth, Nineteenth and some of the other more populous wards of the city police officers were stationed at the school gates, not to keep the peace, but to prevent a stampede.

The boys and girls had been running wild since June; the freedom of nature was in their souls, the sweetest freshness, restlessness of the sea air and sunshine was in their hearts and muscles.

With a sudden rush they were taken to the temple of learning they all wanted to go in at once. The double doors were formed reluctantly and moved slowly to suit the school children.

New York children don't go to school the first day, as in every other city on earth, but they go on the first day.

This city gives her boys and girls free education, free books, slates, pens, ink, and all the other things that are needed.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

There were pocket-books in some of the small most hands, but no other school supplies.

A Bare Possibility

That you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting weeks for a new carpet, you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting weeks for a new carpet, you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting weeks for a new carpet, you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting weeks for a new carpet, you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting weeks for a new carpet, you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting weeks for a new carpet, you can get exactly the carpet you want for half the regular price.

Without waiting